

Sampurasun my friends!

Hello everyone, I'm Kris from Bandung Indonesia. I'm one of the students in Hiroshima University Department of Integrated Arts and Sciences (IGS). I've been interested in the Japanese language and culture since I was little. So, after I graduated from high school I decided to come to Japan to study. Started from language school, now I'm enrolled in IGS. Coming to Japan and study at IGS was one of the best decisions I've ever made. IGS for me is a place where...

to expect the unexpected.

As I mentioned before I went to a language school before I became part of IGS. Before applying to IGS, I was worried about my Japanese since IGS is a program taught in English. However, IGS is beyond my expectations. Not only that I can still use and improve my Japanese, I learned the dialects as well as the real Japan from Japanese students all over Japan. Not forgot to mention that there are also international students which give me more chances to widen my perspective. Daily life here is like riding a rollercoaster. Every time you will always find something interesting and something new that you didn't expect before. Also, for me, the IGS member is not only my friends but also my family.

Beyond limits!

In IGS we can learn anything based on our interests and for those who want to challenge themselves learning something different from your major IGS is the right place. Moreover, this program gives you chances to taste the world-class quality of education. More than that you will be able to understand yourself even better, to know your lowest and your highest, to know that you can do anything, to know you worth than you've ever imagined. IGS will make you realize your potentials and potentials that you didn't know before and it is beyond amazing.

So, what are you waiting for? Prepare yourself to be part of IGS, to be part of our journey. New adventures are waiting for you!
