Chapter 3 Curricula

Class Subjects & Methods of Completion:

Article 25. The class subjects and methods of completion at each graduate school at This Graduate School shall be prescribed by the by-laws of each graduate school.

- (2) Of the class subjects at This Graduate School, class subjects that may be jointly completed by students from several graduate schools (excluding those that may be completed only by students who complete the Hiroshima University Graduate School Leader Education Program prescribed in the following article) shall be separately prescribed.

Hiroshima University Graduate School Leader Education Program:

Article 25-2. The Hiroshima University Graduate School Leader Education Program shall be established as a degree program that goes beyond the traditional frameworks of academic disciplines/research areas with the purpose of nurturing leaders equipped with the ability to creatively take up issues and perceive the nature of matters based on a broad foundation of knowledge.

(2) Matters necessary to the Hiroshima University Graduate School Leader Education Program shall be separately prescribed.

Class Methods & Standard for Calculating Credits:

Article 26. The stipulations set forth in Article 19-2 of the General Provisions and the stipulations set forth in Article 19-3 of the General Provisions shall apply mutatis mutandis regarding class methods at This Graduate School and regarding the standard for calculating credits, respectively.

Research Instruction:

Article 27. A student at This Graduate School (excluding students in a professional degree program) during the period of enrollment must complete class subjects prescribed for each major, acquire the credits stipulated in Article 43, Paragraph 1, and receive instruction for the creation of a dissertation, etc. (hereafter, Research Instruction).

However, this shall not apply to a person recognized as having academic ability equal to, or greater than, a person possessing a master's degree or professional degree in terms of qualifications for admission to graduate school in accordance with stipulations set forth in Item 2 to Item 8 of Article 16, in regard to the acquisition of credits and completion of class subjects in cases where s/he is admitted to a Second Term Doctorate Course.

(2) When deemed educationally beneficial, each graduate school (excluding the Program in Professional Development of Teachers/Graduate School of Education) may approve of a student studying abroad at another graduate school or research institute, etc., or at a foreign graduate school without taking a leave of absence to receive the required Research Instruction, following discussions in advance with said graduate school or research institute, or said foreign graduate school, etc. However, the period of said Research Instruction shall not exceed 1 year in cases of approval for students in the master's course and First Term Doctorate Course.

Special Cases of Educational Methods:

Article 28. In cases where deemed a special educational requirement, education may be carried out in a suitable manner such as by conducting classes or Research Instruction, etc. in the evening or at another specified time or period in courses at This Graduate School.

Granting of Credits:

Article 29. The stipulations set forth in Article 19-4 of the General Provisions regarding granting of credits shall apply mutatis mutandis. In this case, “and attendance” shall be changed to “or research paper.”

Performance Assessment of Class Subjects:

Article 30. The assessment of performance in a class subject shall utilize the 5 levels of excellent, superior, good, fair, and poor. Excellent, superior, good, and fair shall be passing grades, while poor shall be a failing grade.

Maximum Course Registration:

Article 31. In regard to the number of credits a student must acquire as a requirement for graduation, the maximum number of credits a student may register for in 1 year or one semester shall be as prescribed by Hiroshima University Law School and the Graduate School of Education, so that a student in a professional degree program completes an appropriate number of class subjects over each year.

Long-term Completion of Curricula:

Article 32. When a student expresses the intent to systematically complete the curricula and complete a course over a certain period of time that exceeds the standard term of study due to circumstances such as having an occupation, that systematic completion (hereafter, Long-term Completion of Curricula) may be approved provided it does not present a hindrance to said graduate school.

(2) Matters necessary to the handling of Long-term Completion of Curricula shall be separately prescribed.

Acquiring Necessary Qualifications for the Granting of Teaching Credentials:

Article 33. The stipulations set forth in Article 24 of the General Provisions regarding the acquisition of necessary qualifications for the granting of teaching credentials shall apply mutatis mutandis.

Organizational Training, etc. to Improve Educational Content, etc.:

Article 34. This Graduate School shall implement organizational training and research for the purpose of improving the class content and methods of classes and Research Instruction.

Student Exchange and Studying Abroad, etc.:

Article 35. When deemed educationally beneficial, a graduate school may regard the number of credits acquired for class subjects completed in an educational course at another graduate school (including a foreign graduate school and the United Nations University) as having been acquired by completion of class subjects at This Graduate School, provided it does not exceed 10 credits (For the Program in Professional Development of Teachers/Graduate School of Education, the amount shall not exceed one half of the prescribed number of credits required to complete the program. 30 credits for Hiroshima University Law School; however, in cases where the acquisition of over 93 credits is required for completion of Hiroshima University Law School, it may be regarded as having acquired over 30 credits, limited to the number of credits in excess), following deliberations of the Faculty Meeting in said graduate school.

- (2) The stipulations set forth in the preceding paragraph shall apply mutatis mutandis in cases where class subjects conducted by a foreign school by correspondence education are completed in Japan
- (3) The number of credits that may be regarded as having been acquired in accordance with the stipulations set forth in the preceding 2 paragraphs shall not exceed 10 credits in total For the Program in Professional Development of Teachers/Graduate School of Education, the amount shall not exceed one half of the prescribed number of credits required to complete the program. 30 credits for Hiroshima University Law School together with the number of credits that may be regarded as having been acquired in accordance with Paragraph 1 of the following Article and Article 45, Paragraph 2 (excluding the number of credits regarded as having been acquired that exceed 30 credits, in accordance with the stipulations set forth in the proviso to Paragraph 1 and the proviso to Article 45, Paragraph 2)).
- (4) Matters necessary to student exchange and studying abroad shall be separately stipulated.

Approval of Credits Acquired Prior to Admission:

Article 36. When deemed educationally beneficial, a graduate school may regard credits (including credits acquired as a credited auditor) acquired by completing class subjects in a curricula at a graduate school (including a foreign graduate school and the United Nations University) prior to being admitted to This Graduate School as credits acquired by completing class subjects at This Graduate School.

- (2) The number of credits that may be regarded as completed in accordance with the stipulations set forth in the preceding paragraph, in regard to credits other than those acquired at This Graduate school (including credits acquired as a credited auditor) and excluding the case of school transfer, shall not exceed 10 credits (For the Program in Professional Development of Teachers/Graduate School of Education, the amount shall not exceed one half of the prescribed number of credits required to complete the program, which includes the number of credits that may be regarded as having been acquired in accordance with stipulations set forth in Paragraph 1 and Paragraph 2 of the preceding Article, and Article 44, Paragraph 2. 30 credits for Hiroshima University Law School together with the number of credits that may be regarded as having been acquired in accordance with stipulations set forth in Paragraph 1 and Paragraph 2 of the preceding Article, and Article 45, Paragraph 2 (excluding the number of credits regarded as having been acquired that exceed 30 credits, in accordance with the stipulations set forth in the proviso to Paragraph 1 of the preceding Article and the proviso to Article 45, Paragraph 2)).

- (3) Matters necessary to the approval of credits acquired prior to admission in accordance with the stipulations set forth in the preceding two paragraphs shall be separately stipulated.

Chapter 4 Leave of Absence, Withdrawal & Transfer

Leave of Absence:

Article 37. The stipulations set forth in Article 32 to Article 34 of the General Provisions regarding leave of absence shall apply mutatis mutandis.

Withdrawal:

Article 38. The stipulations set forth in Article 35 of the General Provisions regarding withdrawal shall apply mutatis mutandis.

Transfer:

Article 39. A student applying for transfer from a course at another graduate school or the United Nations University shall obtain permission following an entrance exam, restricted to the start of each semester.

- (2) When a student at This Graduate School intends to apply for transfer to another graduate school, s/he must carry out a predetermined procedure and submit a petition.

Chapter 5 Reward and Punishment & Removal from Register

Reward:

Article 40. The stipulations set forth in Article 39 of the General Provisions regarding rewards shall apply mutatis mutandis.

Punishment:

Article 41. The stipulations set forth in Article 40 to Article 42 of the General Provisions regarding punishment shall apply mutatis mutandis.

Removal from Register:

Article 42. The stipulations set forth in Article 43 of the General Provisions regarding removal from register shall apply mutatis mutandis.

Chapter 6 Course Completion & Conferment of Degrees

Completion Requirements:

Article 43. The completion requirements for a master's course and First Term Doctorate Course shall be enrollment in a graduate school for at least 2 years (graduate schools, majors or a student's division of studies that prescribe a standard term of study of over 2 years shall be the said standard term of study), acquisition of 30 or more credits, and following the receiving of required Research Instruction, the passing of a final examination and screening for a master's thesis submitted during the enrollment period.

However, an enrollment period of 1 year or more in graduate school shall be regarded as sufficient for a student recognized by the graduate school dean following deliberations in the Faculty Meeting in said graduate school as having demonstrated outstanding achievement.

(2) In the case of the preceding paragraph, when the graduate school dean following deliberations in said Faculty Meeting in a graduate school recognizes it as appropriate in accordance with the aims of that master's course or First Term Doctorate Course, a screening of research outcomes on a particular topic may be substituted for a master's thesis screening.

(3) In cases where it is deemed necessary for the purpose of achieving the aims of a First Term Doctorate Course, in place of the screening of a master's thesis or research outcomes on a particular topic and passing of the examination stipulated in the preceding two paragraphs, completion may be accomplished by passing the following examination and screening carried out by said graduate school.

[1] An examination on advanced specialized knowledge and capabilities in a major field of study and fundamental grounding in areas related to said major field of study that are mastered and should be cultivated in said First Term Doctorate Course

[2] Screening on matters that should be acquired in the aforementioned First Term Doctorate Course regarding abilities necessary to independently execute research related to a dissertation

Article 44. The completion requirements for a doctorate course shall be enrollment in a graduate school for at least 5 years (for a person enrolled in a master's course for at least 2 years who has completed said course, the 2 years of enrollment in said course shall be included; 4 years for the Biomedical Science Major/Graduate School of Biomedical & Health Sciences), acquisition of 30 or more credits, and following the receiving of required Research Instruction, the passing of a final examination and screening for a submitted dissertation. However, for a student recognized by the graduate school dean following deliberations in the Faculty Meeting in said graduate school as having demonstrated outstanding achievement, an enrollment period of at least 3 years (for a student in a doctorate course other than the Biomedical Science Major/Graduate School of Biomedical & Health Sciences who has been enrolled in a master's course for at least 2 years and has completed said course, an enrollment period of 2 years in said course shall be included) in a graduate school shall be regarded as sufficient.

(2) The completion requirements for a doctorate course for a person who has completed a master's course where the standard term of study is of 1 year to 2 years, or a person who completed a master's course during the enrollment period in accordance with the stipulations set forth in the proviso for Paragraph 1 in the preceding Article, are enrollment for a period of 3 years or longer in addition to the enrollment period in a master's course at a graduate school, acquisition of 30 or more credits, and following the reception of required Research Instruction, the passing of a final examination and screening for a submitted dissertation. However, an enrollment period of at least 3 years (including the enrollment period in a master's program) in a graduate school shall be regarded as sufficient for a person recognized by the graduate school dean following deliberations in the Faculty Meeting in said graduate school as having demonstrated outstanding research achievements.

- (3) Notwithstanding the stipulations of the preceding two paragraphs, for a person recognized as having academic abilities equal to, or greater than, a person possessing a master's degree or professional degree in relation to qualifications for admission to a graduate school in accordance with stipulations set forth in Item 2 to Item 7 of Article 16, the completion requirements for a doctorate course in cases of admittance to a Second Term Doctorate course shall be enrollment of at least 3 years in a graduate school, the acquisition of credits when prescriptions in said graduate school exist, and following the reception of required Research Instruction, the passing of a final examination and screening for a submitted dissertation. However, an enrollment period of at least 1 year in a graduate school shall be regarded as sufficient for a person recognized by the graduate school dean following deliberations in the Faculty Meeting in said graduate school as having demonstrated outstanding research achievements.

Article 44-2. The completion requirements for the Program in Professional Development of Teachers/Graduate School of Education shall be enrollment for at least 2 years and an acquisition of 45 or more credits (including at least 10 credits of student teaching at an elementary school ("Elementary School" is stipulated in Paragraph 1 of Article 26 of the Standards for the Establishment of Professional Graduate Schools (Ordinance of the Ministry of Education, Culture, Sports, Science and Technology No. 16 of March 31, 2003); hereafter, the same shall apply) for the purpose of producing highly qualified teachers with advanced professional abilities and practical skills or other educational institution.

- (2) When deemed educationally beneficial, a person with experience working as an Elementary School teacher before enrolling in this program may be granted exemption, in part or in full, from acquiring credits for student teaching stipulated in the preceding paragraph, provided it does not exceed 10 credits.
- (3) Notwithstanding the stipulations of Paragraph 1, when a person has acquired credits prior to enrolling in this program in accordance with the stipulations in Article 36, Paragraph 2 and those credits have been deemed as having been acquired in this program, and said person has been recognized as having completed part of the curriculum by acquiring said credits, said person may be deemed as having been enrolled in this program for a period specified by the Graduate School of Education, provided it does not exceed 1 year, taking into consideration factors such as the number of credits in question and the time it took to acquire said credits. However, even in this case, said person must be enrolled in this program for at least 1 year.

Article 45. The completion requirements for Hiroshima University Law School shall be enrollment of at least 3 years and the acquisition of a number of credits greater than that prescribed by Hiroshima University Law School of at least 93 credits. However, an enrollment period for a person recognized as having acquired credits prior to admission may be abbreviated by a period equal to the number of said credits, provided it does not exceed 1 year.

(2) Notwithstanding the stipulations of the preceding paragraph, a person recognized as having the fundamental knowledge of legal studies deemed necessary in Hiroshima University Law School (hereafter, Legal Studies Student) shall be regarded as having acquired credits within a range that does not exceed 30 credits, and may abbreviate the enrollment period by a period equal to the number of said credits, provided it does not exceed 1 year. However, in cases where acquisition of over 93 credits is required for completion, it may be regarded as having acquired over 30 credits, limited to the number of credits in excess.

(3) The number of credits that may be regarded as having been acquired by a Legal Studies Student in accordance with the stipulations set forth in the preceding paragraph shall not exceed 30 credits (excluding the number of credits regarded as having been acquired that exceed 30 credits, in accordance with the stipulations set forth in the proviso to Article 35, Paragraph 1 and the proviso to the preceding paragraph) together with the number of credits that may be regarded as having been acquired in accordance with the stipulations set forth in Paragraph 1 and Paragraph 2 of Article 35, and Article 36, Paragraph 1.

Conferment of Degrees:

Article 46. A person who completes This Graduate School shall be conferred a master's degree, doctorate degree, or professional degree by the president.

(2) A doctorate degree shall be conferred even upon a person who does not undertake a doctorate course at This Graduate School when such a person submits a dissertation and passes screening, and an interview.

(3) Matters necessary to the conferment of a master's, doctorate, or professional degree shall be separately stipulated.

Dissertations and Final Examinations:

Article 47. The final examination set forth in Article 43 and Article 44 shall focus on a dissertation and cover related subjects.

Article 48. The passing or failure of a dissertation and final examination shall be determined by the graduate school dean following screening at the Faculty Meeting in said graduate school.

(2) The method of the screening verdict shall be prescribed by each graduate school.

Chapter 7 Tuition

Tuition:

Article 49. Annual tuition shall be 535,800 yen (804,000 yen for Hiroshima University Law School). However, the amount for a person approved for Long-term Completion of Curricula in accordance with Article 32 shall be calculated by dividing the amount obtained by multiplying the annual tuition amount by the number of years equal to the remaining standard term of study at the time the Long-term Completion of Curricula was approved, by the number of years of said Long-term Completion of Curricula (when that amount contains a fraction less than 10 yen, the amount shall be rounded up).

(2) The entire tuition for the second semester may be exempt for students demonstrating outstanding achievement.

(3) When a person who has paid the tuition becomes exempt from paying tuition as a student demonstrating outstanding achievement, an amount equal to the tuition for the second semester shall be refunded in accordance with the request of the person who made the payment.

(4) In addition to the prescriptions in Paragraph 2, a scholarship student in the separately prescribed Hiroshima University Hikarikagayaku Scholarship Program may be exempt from paying the entire tuition.

(5) In addition to the prescriptions in the preceding paragraphs, the stipulations set forth in Article 47, Paragraph 2 to Article 51 of the General Provisions regarding payment procedures, etc. for tuition shall apply mutatis mutandis.

Chapter 8 Special Research Students

Special Research Students:

Article 50. When a person applies to receive Research Instruction at This Graduate School who is a student at another graduate school, foreign graduate school, etc., or the United Nations University, a graduate school may accept him/her as a special research student, based on discussions with said other graduate school, foreign graduate school, etc., or the United Nations University.

Tuition , etc. for Special Research Students:

Article 51. The tuition for special research students shall be an amount equal to the amount stipulated in Article 8 of the Hiroshima University Research Student Regulations (April 1, 2004 Regulation No. 10). However, tuition shall not be collected from a graduate school student from a national university or a person who falls under any of the items below.

[1] When the tuition for said student is deemed mutually non-collectible through an inter-university exchange agreement for special research students that is concluded with a public or private university

[2] When the tuition for said student is deemed mutually non-collectible through a university exchange agreement, faculty exchange agreement, or the equivalent that is concluded with a foreign graduate school, etc.

(2) Special research students must pay the amount stipulated in the preceding paragraph by a designated date every 6 months (when the period of intended Research Instruction is less than 6 months, tuition must be paid for that period), in accordance with the period of intended Research Instruction.

(3) Tuition that has already been paid shall not be refunded.

(4) Examination fees and admission fees related to special research students shall not be collected.

Application of Regulations:

Article 52. In addition to the prescriptions set forth in this Chapter, the regulations regarding students at This Graduate School shall apply mutatis mutandis to special research students.

Chapter 9 Research Students and Credited Auditors, etc.

Research Students:

Article 53. When a person other than a student at This Graduate School applies to research a specific matter at This Graduate School, s/he may be granted admission as a research student by selection, provided it does not present a hindrance to education and research.

(2) Matters necessary to research students shall be separately stipulated.

Credited Auditors:

Article 54. When a person who is not a student at This Graduate School applies to complete one or more class subjects at This Graduate School, admission as a credited auditor may be granted by selection, provided it does not present a hindrance to education and research.

(2) Matters necessary to credited auditors shall be separately prescribed.

Law School Research Students:

Article 54-2. When a person who has completed Hiroshima University Law School applies to conduct self-learning at Hiroshima University Law School following completion, s/he may be accepted as a law school research student, provided it does not present a hindrance to education and research.

(2) Matters necessary to law school research students shall be prescribed by Hiroshima University Law School.

Credit Program:

Article 54-3. A credit program may be established at This Graduate School as a special course as stipulated in Article 105 of the Law for the purpose of utilizing the education and research resources at This Graduate School to actively provide learning opportunities for adults in the workforce, etc.

(2) Matters necessary to the credit program shall be separately prescribed.

Chapter 10 Teacher Organization

Teacher Organization:

Article 55. Professors or associate professors shall be in charge of classes in each graduate school (excluding Hiroshima University Law School). However, when necessary, instructors or assistant professors shall be in charge or share duties.

(2) Professors shall be in charge of Research Instruction in each graduate school (excluding Hiroshima University Law School). However, when necessary, associate professors, instructors, or assistant professors shall be in charge or share duties.

(3) Professors shall be in charge of classes in Hiroshima University Law School. However, when necessary, associate professors, instructors, or assistant professors shall be in charge or share duties.

Chapter 11 Miscellaneous Provisions

Miscellaneous Provisions:

Article 56. The graduate school dean shall report revisions to the graduate school by-laws to the president.

(2) In addition to the regulations prescribed here, the stipulations set forth in the General Provisions shall apply mutatis mutandis to matters necessary to student learning at This Graduate School.

Article 57. In cases where the General Provisions are applied mutatis mutandis to these regulations, “school dean” shall be replaced with “graduate school dean.”
