Zen Presentation Seminars

How to make effective presentations is one of the most important skills for researchers. They need to know how to communicate the results of research in an easy-to-understand manner, how to make business proposals, and how to promote themselves at job interviews. In this seminar, Prof. Garr Reynolds, one of the world's leading experts in conducting and teaching presentations, will provide you with the knowledge and techniques you need to improve your presentation skills.

- Topic 1 Restraint and storytelling
- Topic 2 How to make a simple slide
- Topic 3 Engage with audience
- Topic 4 Virtual presentations
- Topic 5 Language issues (Japanese, English, or bilingual?)
- Topic 6 Presentations to different audience: academic peers or lay persons

Garr Reynolds

Originally from the north Oregon coast, Prof. Garr Reynolds is an internationally acclaimed communications consultant and teacher. His approach to communication takes the principles and lessons from the Zen arts in Japan to reveal simple, concrete tips for communicating — and living — better. A sought-after speaker and consultant worldwide, his clients include many in the Fortune 500. Prof. Reynolds is the former Manager for Worldwide User Group Relations at Apple, Inc. in Silicon Valley. SAY Media out of New York City said in 2011 that Garr is one of the “100 most-influential people on the Internet.” A longtime student of the Zen arts and resident of Japan, he lives in the beautiful countryside of Nara with his family and is currently a Professor at Kansai Gaidai University.
