

The 17th International Peace and Coexistence (IPC) Seminar

• Armed Conflict and Peacebuilding in Africa

- 15 March 2023, 3:00 pm-4:30 pm (JST), Large Conference Room, IDEC building
- Open to all!
- This seminar invites Dr. Chigumi Kawaguchi (Assistant Professor in Toyo Gakuen University), who lectures on gender-based violence in armed conflicts in Africa. In addition, Dr. Tatsuo Yamane (Hiroshima University) also gives a wider discussion on multilateral peace operations in Africa in terms of its conflict settings and relevant peacebuilding.

Language: English

Moderator: Tatsuo Yamane Hiroshima University

Peacebuilding and Gender in the Context of Aid: An Example of Refugees in Uganda

Dr. Chigumi Kawaguchi Toyo Gakuen University

African Multilateral Peace Operations in Conflict Settings

Dr. Tatsuo Yamane Hiroshima University

Chigumi Kawaguchi (Dr.)

Chigumi Kawaguchi is an Assistant Professor of Toyo Gakuen University in Tokyo. She received her Ph.D. in International Public Policy from Osaka University. Before joining Toyo Gakuen University, she worked as a research fellow at JICA-Research Institute, a researcher in the International Peace Cooperation Division in the Ministry of Foreign Affairs, and the International Peace Cooperation Office in the Cabinet Office of Japan, and in the Graduate School of Security Studies at the National Defense Academy. Her fields of research are policy studies, comparative politics, foreign aid and peacebuilding. She is one of the editors of Crisis Management beyond the Humanitarian and Development Nexus (Routledge, 2018).

Hosted by the Program of International Peace & Coexistence, School of Humanities and Social Sciences. Hiroshima University
For further details, please contact Tatsuo Yamane, Associate Professor (tyamane[at]Hiroshima-u.ac.jp).