1．Acquiring an Academic Diploma：Bachelor＇s Degree（Educational Science）

2．Overview

The Program in Music Culture Education mainly aims to foster junior high and high school music teachers．It also pays due attention to fostering other kinds of professionals，such as life－long education instructors．As such，it encourages students to acquire a self－motivating leaning attitude，develop a theoretical and critical way of thinking， and form a foundation of academic learning in order to shape a life－long habit of self－improvement．

The curriculum of this program is organized so that students can systematically acquire the basic knowledge， abilities，skills，and attitudes toward education that are required for music instruction in junior high and high schools by learning theories，acquiring skills，and engaging in teaching practice．

In addition，it responds to the needs of students going on to the graduate school to work as researchers， educational and cultural professionals working for businesses and public organizations，and those who aim to contribute to society as instructors，etc．in the field of life－long education．

3．Diploma Policy（Policy for awarding degrees and goal of the program）
The Program in Music Culture Education mainly aims to foster professionals，such as the music instructors and researchers，who can contribute to society with a global outlook by using advanced knowledge and skills in education and music in junior high and high schools and other music－related institutions．Therefore，this program awards a bachelor＇s degree in educational science to the students who have obtained the standard number of credits set forth in the educational curriculum，and acquired the following abilities：
（1）The practical abilities required for music teachers in junior high and high schools，and the ability to develop these abilities into research from a global perspective．
（2）The technical knowledge and skills related to music，and the ability to work independently as a music practitioner and researcher．
（3）Acquisition of basic knowledge of life－long learning and music culture in general，and the ability to respond creatively and in a realistic manner to the various issues surrounding society and music．
4. Curriculum Policy (Policy for organization and implementation of the curriculum)

The Program in Music Culture Education organizes and implements the educational curriculum based on the following policy in order for the students to attain the goals set for this program.
$1^{\text {st }}$ Year: Students learn the Solfege I, Fundamental Study in Singing, Fundamental Study in Piano, Fundamental Study in Composition, and so on, as the basic specialized education in order to obtain basic the knowledge and skills related to music. They are also encouraged to study liberal arts subjects and foreign languages to foster not only a musical education, but also a global, unbiased outlook and the ability and to raise awareness of, and contribute to, society and world peace. In addition, they study Introduction to Teaching Practice for Lower and Upper Secondary Schools in preparation for teaching practice.
$2^{\text {nd }}$ Year: Students continue to study Introduction to Lifelong Activities Education, as their basic specialized education, as well as liberal arts subjects, in order to broaden their perspective. They also study the teaching profession-related subjects, including Guidance on the Teaching Profession, Principles of Education, and Education and Society and Systems, and specialized subjects such as Studies in Teaching of Music, Composition, Singing, Piano, and the Wind, String, and Percussion Instruments, in order to learn about education and music technically in terms of both theory and practice. In addition, they observe teaching practice classes by taking Teaching Practice Focusing on Classroom Observation at Lower and Upper Secondary Schools, in order to develop the ability to analyze music classes form various perspectives.
$3^{\text {rd }}$ Year: Students continue to study teaching profession-related subjects and specialized subjects, including Traditional Music in Secondary School. They also take the Practice in Teaching B, and Teaching Practice at Junior and Senior High School I, undertaking hands-on practice at Hiroshima University Schools to develop practical teaching skills in the field of education. In addition, by taking Concert Management, they make plan and manage a real regular concert in order to enhance their ability to find solutions to problems in cooperation with others.
$4^{\text {th }}$ Year: Students use their technical knowledge, skills, and abilities acquired so far in the program to complete a graduation thesis based on their original topic. They can also continue advanced technical research on instruments, singing, composition, and music education by studying specialized subjects.

In the curriculum described above, teaching and learning will be implemented by utilizing active learning, experiential learning and online classes, depending on the delivery methods of each program, such as lectures, practical skill courses and seminars.

In addition to strict grading using the standards clearly outlined in the syllabus, learning outcomes are evaluated based on the degree to which the goals set by this program are achieved.

5. Starting Timing and Conditions

Students must select and register for this program upon entering the School of Education.

6. Obtainable Qualifications

Students can acquire the licenses of Class 1 Junior High School Teacher (Music) and Class 1 High School Teacher (Music) on the condition that they take the credits of the teaching profession-related subjects, in accordance with the Education Personnel Certification Act. The licenses such as those for curators and school librarians can also be obtained by additionally taking the relevant program.
7. Subjects and Lesson Contents
*For subjects, please refer to the subject lists given in Attachment 1. (Attach the lists.)
*For lesson contents, please refer to the syllabus published every academic year.

8. Academic Results

At the end of each semester, the standard of evaluation will be explicitly stated for each evaluation item to show the level of achievement.

The academic result evaluation for each item will be converted as follows: $S=4, A=3, B=2$, and $C=1$. Based on the evaluation standard calculated with the weighted value factored in, students' learning results are classified as one of three levels - Excellent, Very Good, and Good - from the first semester of the $1^{\text {st }}$ year to the present semester of the current year.

| Result Evaluation | Conversion |
| :--- | :---: |
| S (90 points or more $)$ | 4 |
| A $(80 \sim 89$ points $)$ | 3 |
| B $(70 \sim 79$ points $)$ | 2 |
| $C(60 \sim 69$ points $)$ | 1 |

| Academic Results | Standard |
| :--- | :---: |
| Excellent | $3.00 \sim 4.00$ |
| Very Good | $2.00 \sim 2.99$ |
| Good | $1.00 \sim 1.99$ |

9. Study in Graduation Thesis (Purpose, Assignment Method and Timing)

The graduation thesis is the ultimate goal, aimed at by this program, for training music teachers in junior and senior high schools and technical instructors for life-long education. It encourages students to make use of their abilities and skills acquired so far, and to use them in the fields of actual education and research, identifying their own attainment level for further development and advancement. The research and presentations are scheduled as follows:

1) Presentation on the research topic: $1^{\text {st }}$ semester of the $3^{\text {rd }}$ year
2) Midterm presentation: $1^{\text {st }}$ semester of the $4^{\text {th }}$ year
3) Final presentation: end of the $2^{\text {nd }}$ semester of the $4^{\text {th }}$ year
10. System of Responsibility
1) System of PDCA (Plan, Do, Check andAct)

This system is mainly implemented by the staff members of the Program in Music Culture Education, School of Education. The program head (head of the Program in Music Culture Education) is responsible for its implementation. All the teaching staff members will make a plan, implement and evaluate it, and make improvements at the decision meeting.
2) Evaluation of the Program

This program is evaluated from the two perspectives of educational and social benefits. The educational benefits will be evaluated not only by the level of attainment of the students who took this program (fulfillment of the graduation requirements and the requirements for students wishing to obtain music teacher's secondary school license), but also by the general evaluation by the group of teachers in charge. The third-party evaluation will be made by the group in charge in the School of Education, in which they will evaluate the attainment level of the program and make recommendations. The evaluation results will be reflected in the management of the program, not only by improving the content of the program, but also by discussing the effectiveness of the guidance given to the students and of the educational curriculum.
