

Common Graduate Courses

Graduate Schools of Hiroshima University offer graduate students the Common Graduate Courses which are designed to develop a broad perspective, interest in society, and awareness of social issues. The courses also aim to deepen students' thoughts on how each specialized field can contribute to society as "a science leading to sustainable development".

Additionally, the courses help them grasp the latest developments in the social system and acquire the basic knowledge to play an active part in modern society.

All graduate students are required to take at least one (1) credit from each subject type, "Sustainable Development Courses" and "Career Development and Data Literacy Courses".

〈Subject Type and Educational Goals〉

◆ Sustainable Development Courses

To understand the Sustainable Development Goals (SDGs), which are agreed internationally, to acquire the ability to create sciences which lead to sustainable development, and to solve various challenges in society.

◆ Career Development and Data Literacy Courses

To learn about the development of current social systems, to gain necessary knowledge for the future era, to concretely tackle the challenges of modern society, and to acquire the ability to use the knowledge and skills necessary in the future era.
