About HIRAKU-Global Program:

HIRAKU-Global stands for The "Home for Innovative Researchers and Academic Knowledge Users Driving Global Impact" and aims to develop innovative, influential and impactful researchers in the global community. This program was formed as the Consortium "World-Class Researcher Development Through Regional Collaboration," by Hiroshima University (Lead Organization) together with Yamaguchi University, Tokushima University, and Ehime University (Partner Organizations). The Program was selected in 2019 and funded by a 10-year MEXT grant called the "Strategic Professional Development Program for Young Researchers." Please find more information from our website:
