

AI-Era Report Writing Support! (The Writing Center)

Are you writing reports and papers or need help? Many people use AI nowadays. Hiroshima University has a Writing Center (WRC) where tutors support everyone's academic writing. This month, we interviewed two WRC tutors! We will introduce practical episodes while exploring questions like "Can AI write papers for you?" and "How does the WRC differ?"

How does a consultation proceed?

Ms. Indah Islami

Mr. Tomonari Watanabe

Consultations progress in alignment with each student ⁽¹⁾. While listening to your assignment, we help you notice areas for improvement through dialogue and support you in revising your writing. Even a single session can offer new insights. If you come repeatedly, we can provide more detailed advice tailored to your writing style⁽²⁾.

Supplementary Note(..)φ

(1) Tutors have various consultation styles. Some start with icebreakers.

(2) Some students have returned with significantly improved writing after taking notes from their first consultation.

(3) Some students bring drafts written entirely by AI or combine their own writing with AI feedback.

(4) Also, be cautious when asking questions to AI, as your input may be collected.

Do students come for consultations after using AI?

Yes⁽³⁾. AI can reflect your intentions, but reports are evaluated by others. WRC tutors help revise your writing to ensure clarity for any reader. AI text may look smooth but can lack depth or coherence. During sessions, tutors may notice when certain phrases don't sound like your own words—and that's an important moment for reflection.

How should I use AI and WRC support effectively?

While AI is convenient for information gathering, errors do occur, so accuracy verification is necessary. ⁽⁴⁾. At WRC, we think together with students about what they want to communicate through dialogue. Learning the writing process is part of the experience. We help students gradually organize their thoughts and express them in their own words. Ultimately, students are responsible for their writing.

Writing Center (WRC)
Website

Reserve online

A Message for Students Who Are Interested but Unsure!

You do not need to worry about showing perfect writing.

Even if you are unsure about your topic or close to the deadline, it is absolutely normal (5). We are not teachers, but more like friends or seniors you have not met yet. Let's think together and discover the feeling of being able to write. Feel free to drop by!

Supplementary Note(../)φ

(5) Whether you are unsure how to summarize a report, anxious about your thesis, or considering a research proposal—any consultation is welcome. Some seniors have learned to write from there.

How to consult with WRC

- ① In-person
- ② Online
- ③ Comment service – choose your preferred method!

TOPICS

Activities

[10/18]Bibliobattle: Recruiting Battlers and Spectators!

All

Date: Saturday, October 18, 2025, 14:00-16:00

Venue: BIBLA Study Space, 1st Floor, Central

For spectators, please come directly to the venue on the day of the event.

BIBLA Media Space

Open from Oct. 6!

Location: Near the BIBLA Study Space on the 1st floor of the Central Library.

Equipment: Microfilm reader, book scanner, 3D scanner, etc.

More info on our website.

CALENDAR

October Opening Calendar

Library Name	● Open Days	■ Closed Days	▲ Partial Open Days
Central	Open daily	No closure days	10/16
East	Mon-Sat	Sun and 10/13	No partial opening
West	Mon-Sat	Sun and 10/13	Sat
Kasumi	Open except on closed days	10/13, 10/26	10/6, 10/20
Higashi-Senda	Open except on closed days	10/13	10/22

Exhibition by Junior High School Students Now Open!

West

Students from Saijo and Koyo Junior High Schools joined us for workplace experience.

Recommended books selected during their training are now on display on the 2nd floor of the West Library. Come take a look!

Saijo Junior High School

Theme: Autumn

Exhibition Period:

September 12 - October 10

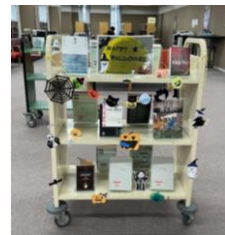

Koyo Junior High School

Theme: Halloween

Exhibition

Period:

September 26 - October 31

For further details scan here ↑