

Nature Masterclasses Live – Expert Trainer-led Webinar Series "Getting Published"

We are pleased to announce the Nature Masterclasses Trainer-led Webinar Series, "Getting Published." This online workshop, led by instructors from Springer Nature, will help researchers and graduate students improve their academic writing in English. The series includes six webinars, each covering an essential topic for writing scientific papers. All sessions are held online, and we warmly invite you to register and participate.

Overview

[Date & Time]

Webinar 1: Wednesday 19 November 14:00-16:00 JST - Logical Manuscript Structure

Webinar 2: Wednesday 19 November 17:00-19:00 JST - Preparing Impactful Figures

Webinar 3: Thursday 20 November 14:00-16:00 JST - Successful Submission Strategies

Webinar 4: Thursday 20 November 17:00-19:00 JST - Navigating Editorial Decisions and Peer Review

Webinar 5: Friday 21 November 14:00-16:00 JST - Understanding Publishing Ethics

Webinar 6: Friday 21 November 17:00-19:00 JST - Enhancing Academic Writing and Publication with Generative AI

* Please refer to the following site for a description of each module.

<https://masterclasses.nature.com/getting-published-effectively-communicating-your-research/23674698>

[Capacity]

250

[Language]

English

[Fee]

Free

[Registration Form]

<https://attendee.gotowebinar.com/register/7604726444379654999>

[How to join]

Please register using the form.

One registration covers all webinar sessions. After registering, you will receive a confirmation email with the participation URL. Reminder emails will be sent one week, one day, and one hour before each session. On the day of the webinar, join using the URL in the confirmation or reminder email.

[Contact Information]

Springer Nature NMT Webinar 運営チーム

Email: nmt_webinars@nature.com

* Questions regarding this webinar should be directed to "nmt_webinars@nature.com".

[Trainer]

Dr. Jeffrey Robens

(Nature Portfolio Lead Trainer)

* Biography

PhD from the University of Pennsylvania. Held research positions at A*STAR, National University of Singapore, RIKEN, and Kyoto University.

Co-hosted by Research Promotion Group and Writing Center, Hiroshima University