

DFG Office Japan & Hiroshima University Co-organize
“The Impact of the Humanities and Social Sciences”

DFG (Deutsche Forschungsgemeinschaft) Office Japan and Hiroshima University is co-organizing an open symposium event under the theme of “The Impact of the Humanities and Social Sciences”.

In this symposium, there will be a keynote lecture discussing “The Impact of the Humanities and Social Sciences” followed by the panel discussions. In the latter, discussions will be made on topics including “how research outcomes of the Humanities/Social Sciences are relevant to society” as well as “social/academic impact of the research outcomes.”

In recent years, the social impacts and benefits concerning academic research of the Humanities and Social Sciences have come under scrutiny with their roles and functions being questioned. Through this symposium, we would like to take this opportunity to deepen our thoughts on how to appeal the value of the Humanities and Social Sciences as well as how to value research outcomes in the Humanities and Social Sciences. I am expecting your active participations to the symposium on that day.
